MedHelp, Inc. and RxNT Announce Partnership to Offer Health Care Providers Medical Billing and Electronic Health Record Solutions

Two Maryland companies combine expertise to enhance workflows and efficiency for healthcare professionals of any size practice or medical specialty.

BALTIMORE, Md., and ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3, 2019 - MedHelp, Inc., a revenue cycle management company, and RxNT, a leader in healthcare technology solutions, today announced a strategic partnership. The MedHelp, Inc. suite of service solutions include traditional medical billing, coding, credentialing, accounts receivable and physician productivity analysis. RxNT will provide electronic health records (EHR) and practice management technology solutions for interested MedHelp, Inc. business partners.

The partnership combines the strengths of the two organizations, offering enhanced services and technology systems to all types of health care providers. The cost-effective solutions offered by RxNT offer a unique value to our Business Partners, too include Federally Qualified Healthcare Centers (FQHCs).

“With over 20 years of healthcare revenue cycle management experience, MedHelp, Inc. knows the challenges healthcare leaders face in sourcing EHR and medical billing systems that have the features they need at a price point they can afford,” said Tory Smith, Director, Sales and Marketing, MedHelp, Inc. “The ability to now offer EHR and practice management solutions helps us achieve our goal of creating a seamless experience for our clients and their patients, reducing their technology spend, and improving their net revenue with simple, efficient and affordable revenue cycle management solutions.”

Health care professionals frequently feel torn between the need to provide the highest quality of care to patients while meeting the demands of operating what essentially is a small business. The MedHelp, Inc. and RxNT partnership brings together established services and technologies designed to improve practice efficiency and revenue management so health care providers can focus more on patient care.

“Through this partnership, we are able to offer more health care providers a feature-rich and affordable EHR that integrates smoothly with a results-oriented billing solution. The end game is to improve patient care and reduce the administrative burden facing today’s health care professionals by giving them proven, flexible, and cost-effective resources,” said Randy Boldyga, CEO and president, RxNT.
